

A Genealogical History of the Concord Harwoods

Descendents of Nathaniel Harwood, Son of John Harwood of London England

Based on

HARWOOD FAMILIES VOLUME III

By Watson H. Harwood, M.D.

Chasm Falls, N. Y. 1912

The basis of this genealogical History is that of Dr. Watson Harwood, later improved with data from a rough drafted rewrite by Walter F. Harwood of Houston TX. The draft was made available in correspondence to Edward D. Harwood, Sr. via W. F. Harwood's letter of 2/14/1990. Some additional corrections and updates have been made by Edward D. Harwood, Jr. based on newspaper clippings, interviews and correspondence.

Correspondence credits are:

- A lot of scraps and letters of Elmer Dunning Harwood provide by Suzanne Harwood (Dern) Green, Judith Ann Harwood, and Edward Dunning Harwood, Sr.

Note: The asterisk before a name indicates that the person's children are listed in the next Generation. The asterisk is hyperlinked to the children's' list. In some cases there are two asterisks indicating that the Mother was married twice and thus two sets of children with different surnames are listed. One may also click on the hyperlink of the "Children of..." to get back to that parent. Use your browser's search function to find specific individuals and other information.

The date and name formats are not proper for a genealogy but follow those of Dr. Harwood – too many errors likely in such an extensive edit required to correct the formats. The dates are Month (written), Day, Year and all ancestors and their spouses names are in capitals. Unless otherwise noted, births are in the United States. Most of Generation 10 and later is not published to retain living person's privacy.

Progenitor

1. * JOHN HARWOOD was a citizen of London, England, and belonged to a family that it would appear had long been settled in London. It is thought that he never came to America, or if he came, returned later to England and died in London. There was a John Harwood who with DOROTHY, his wife, was a resident of London at that time. His will was dated Feb. 16, 1653, and proved Feb. 8, 1654, showing that he died between the two dates. In the will he mentions only two sons, Nathaniel and John, and a daughter Anne. His wife DOROTHY proved the will and had under it a tenement in Cranley, Surrey. We have not, of course, positive proof that John Harwood, who was father to the brothers and sister who settled in New England, was the same as the one who died in 1654, but it seems very probable that he was the same, as the time and place and names all favor such a conclusion.
